America and England.

Just at present the newspapers are discussing the possibility of a war with Great Britain, which they say will grow out of the difficulties attending the Behring Sea seal fishery dispute.

A few years ago it was the Nova Scotia fishery dispute, which the chronic war people told us would result in a bloody war with Great Britain.

During our Civil War there was considerable fear of complications which would lead to a war with England. While there is not actually engaged in war with Great Britain as is usually talking over the possibilities of war.

Of course there is going to be no war with Great Britain. It is the very last thing that both countries desire, and there is no provocation to war over a few fish or a few wrecks on seals.

As such a matter as this cannot be settled by arbitration, it might as well be acknowledged that civilization is a failure.

The United States is getting too old for the bantam jingo policy that has characterized her statesmanship at times in the past.

The aims of arrogant bragadoles are suitable to boys and baby nations, but not to a nation with the dignity of men and well established governments.

The United States has passed the period, when the United States of America caused her to "square off" like a schoolboy in a playground fight. It is an unbecomingly childish thing to do.

This hatred of England on the part of the United States is unnatural. John Bull, as the English have him, is a very good fellow, and he is not a bad fellow.

WHICH IS CORRECT?

Well, to most buyers it makes little difference, if the Price, Quality, and Fit are correct. And we would just say that we have given in buying our FALL STOCK, which is daily coming to hand.

WE HAVE OVER 100. Different Patterns: in Trowserings!

in stock now, from which the most fastidious could make a choice; and by the first of September we expect to nearly double that number. So that buyers will see we intend to retain the REPUTATION already gained of keeping the

The Hudson's Bay company is selling off its lands and dividing the proceeds among the stockholders. Mill-waters and changes in the fashion have depreciated the value of the fur in its domain, and it was found that large quantities on hand. The company's lands, however, are increasing in value, being in a desirable location for settlement.

Wood stone is the name of a new compound material composed of asphalt and sand, which is used in the construction of roads. It is made by working up with water, in a mortar, and pressed into water-proof shapes. These are then laid in a layer, and a layer of water is poured over them. It is a combustible and impervious to water, is susceptible of a fine polish, and is adaptable to numerous uses.

The Late Capt. Hoar, of the royal navy of England, had erected a private lodge from the back of his dwelling at Penzance, Cornwall, on the ruins of a castle which had been prepared for him and his aged wife. One of the rooms in the lodge was devoted to the collection of his personal effects, and he had prepared under his personal supervision his private room during the last fifteen years.

On Monday night between ten and eleven o'clock a young Montrealer named D. Davy, fell over the river bank at the foot of Queen street, Niagara Falls. He was taken to the hospital, but was not discovered till Tuesday morning, when he was found dead. The cause of his death was ascertained to be a fracture of the skull, and it was believed that he had fallen from the top of the cliff. The doctors think that he may recover.

Forty years ago Hiram Greig, a young man, disappeared from the house of his parents at Elmira, N. Y. Search was instituted and kept for several months, but without result.
